Transferring Products?

HiTech Health Value Added Services

0 Years — 3 Years

Who is involved at sending and receiving sites?

Do you have an efficient project management system?

Are you embedding knowledge at the receiving site?

Are you communicating effectively?

Are you tracking and managing your resources?

Do you transfer your products on time?

HiTech Health has developed a software system for the challenges faced during Technical Transfer and embedding knowledge at the receiving site

Know who is involved across multiple sites

Live chat and discussion between team members

Effectively track transfer projects from start to finish

Ability to track and manage resources

Embed knowledge at receiving site

Monitor key milestones to ensure transfer is completed on time

TTTR is a single integrated system, designed for sharing Operational and Technical Knowledge. It aims to radically improve the efficiency of technical transfers. The system is intended to be of significant benefit for transferring complex technical, process and product information

Contact HiTech Health for a demo

info@hitech-health.com