Kidflame

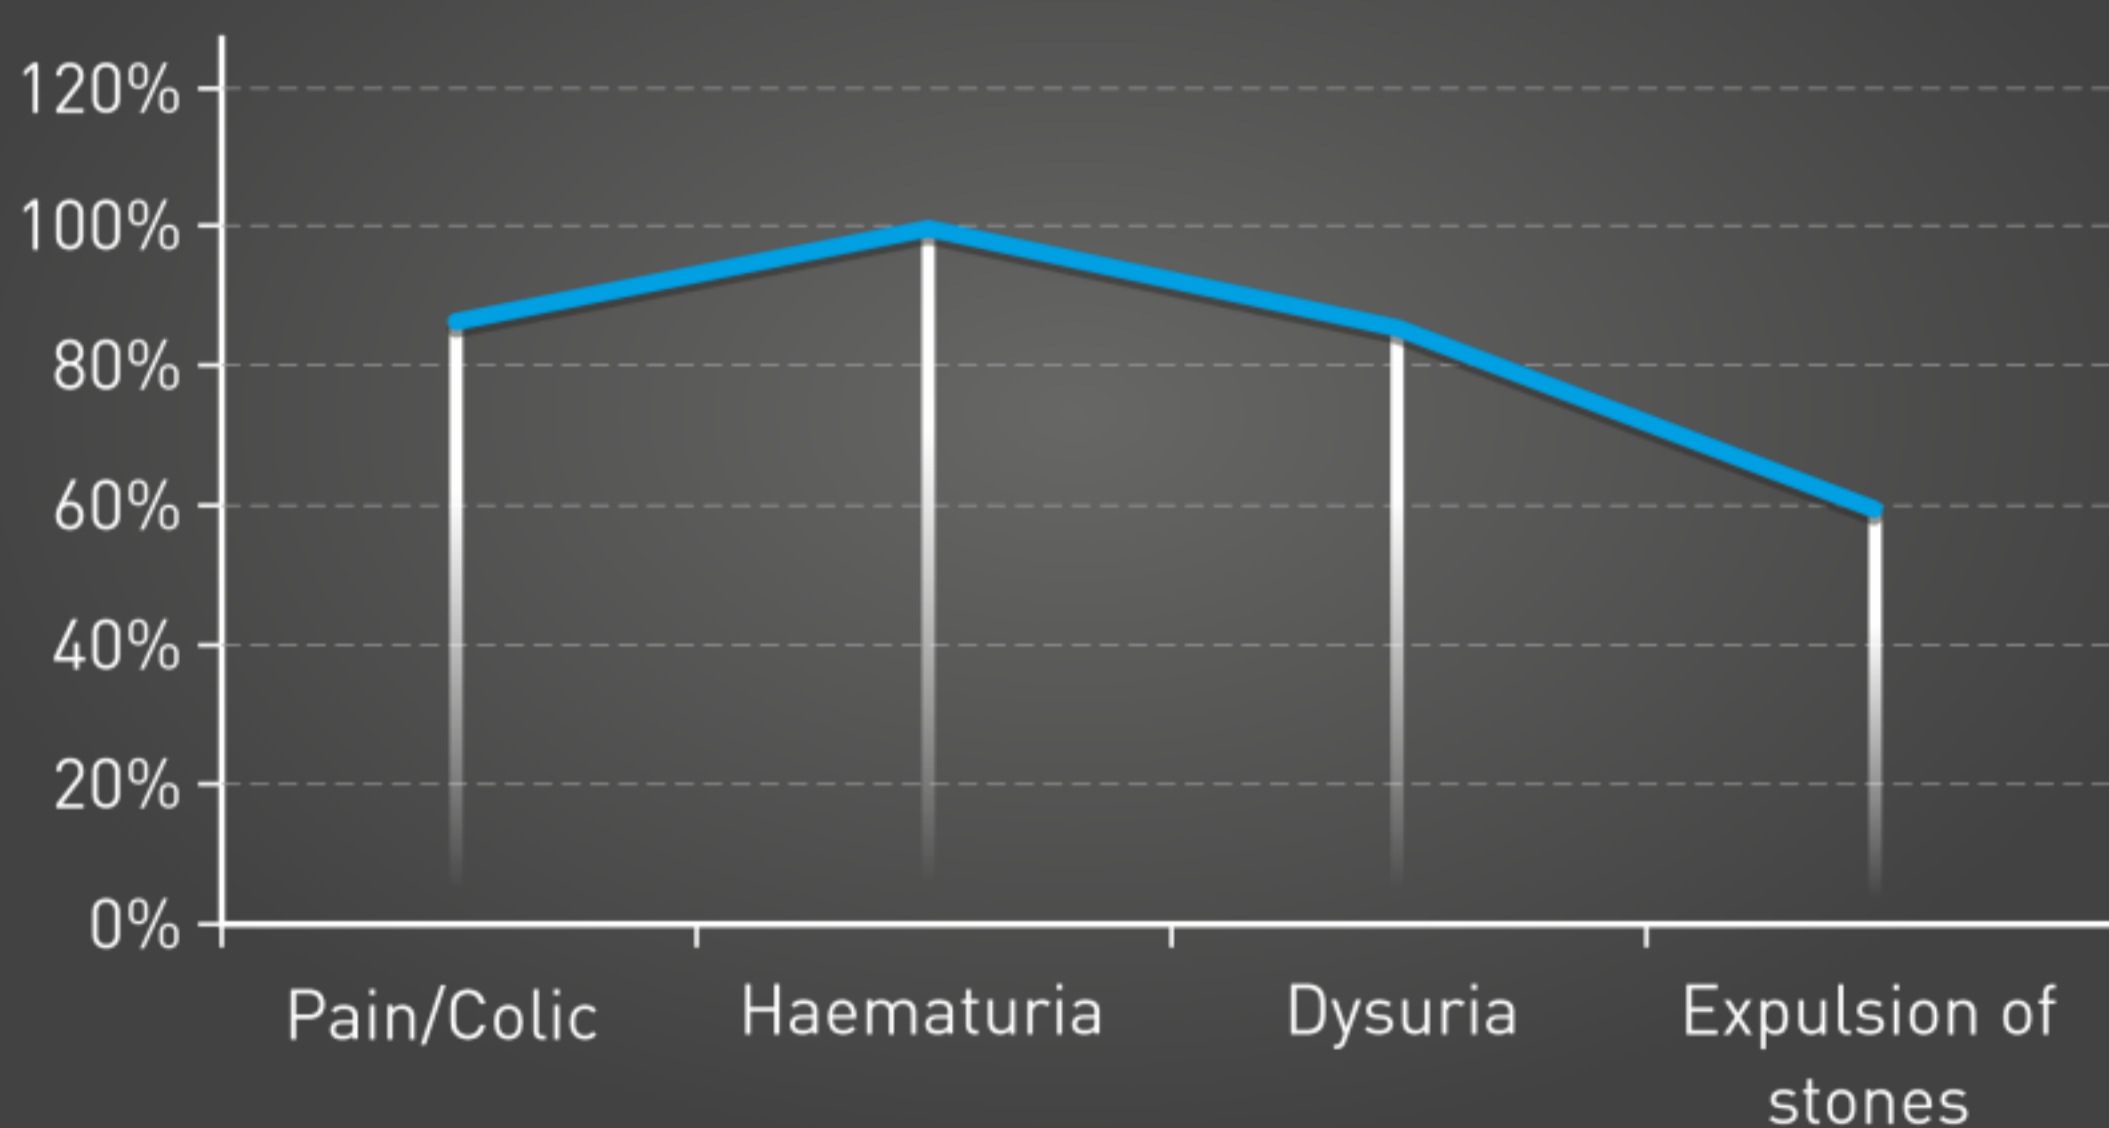

Tablets

Warrior against Urolithiasis & its associated symptoms

Urolithiasis is the course or process of formation of a stone in the kidney or anywhere in the urinary tract. The development of the stones is associated with a reduced urine volume or an augmented excretion of stone-forming components such as calcium, cystine, oxalate, xanthine, urate, and phosphate.

Aim	To evaluate the efficacy and safety of the homeopathic formulation "Kidflame tablet" in patients with kidney stones.
Study conducted in	India
Study design	An Open label, Non-randomized clinical study Subject Size: 123 patients
Time period	90 Days.
Dosage	1 tablet thrice a day.
Result	Kidflame showed efficacy of 78% against urolithiasis (size of stones 3mm to 20mm) & its associated symptoms. Kidflame at dose at least three times daily was more efficacious. The pelvis of the kidney/calices of the kidney was not worsened during the treatment. The incidence rate of adverse events was low, hence demonstrating the favorable tolerability & safety profile of Kidflame.

Efficacy of Kidflame Tablet

Sinuset

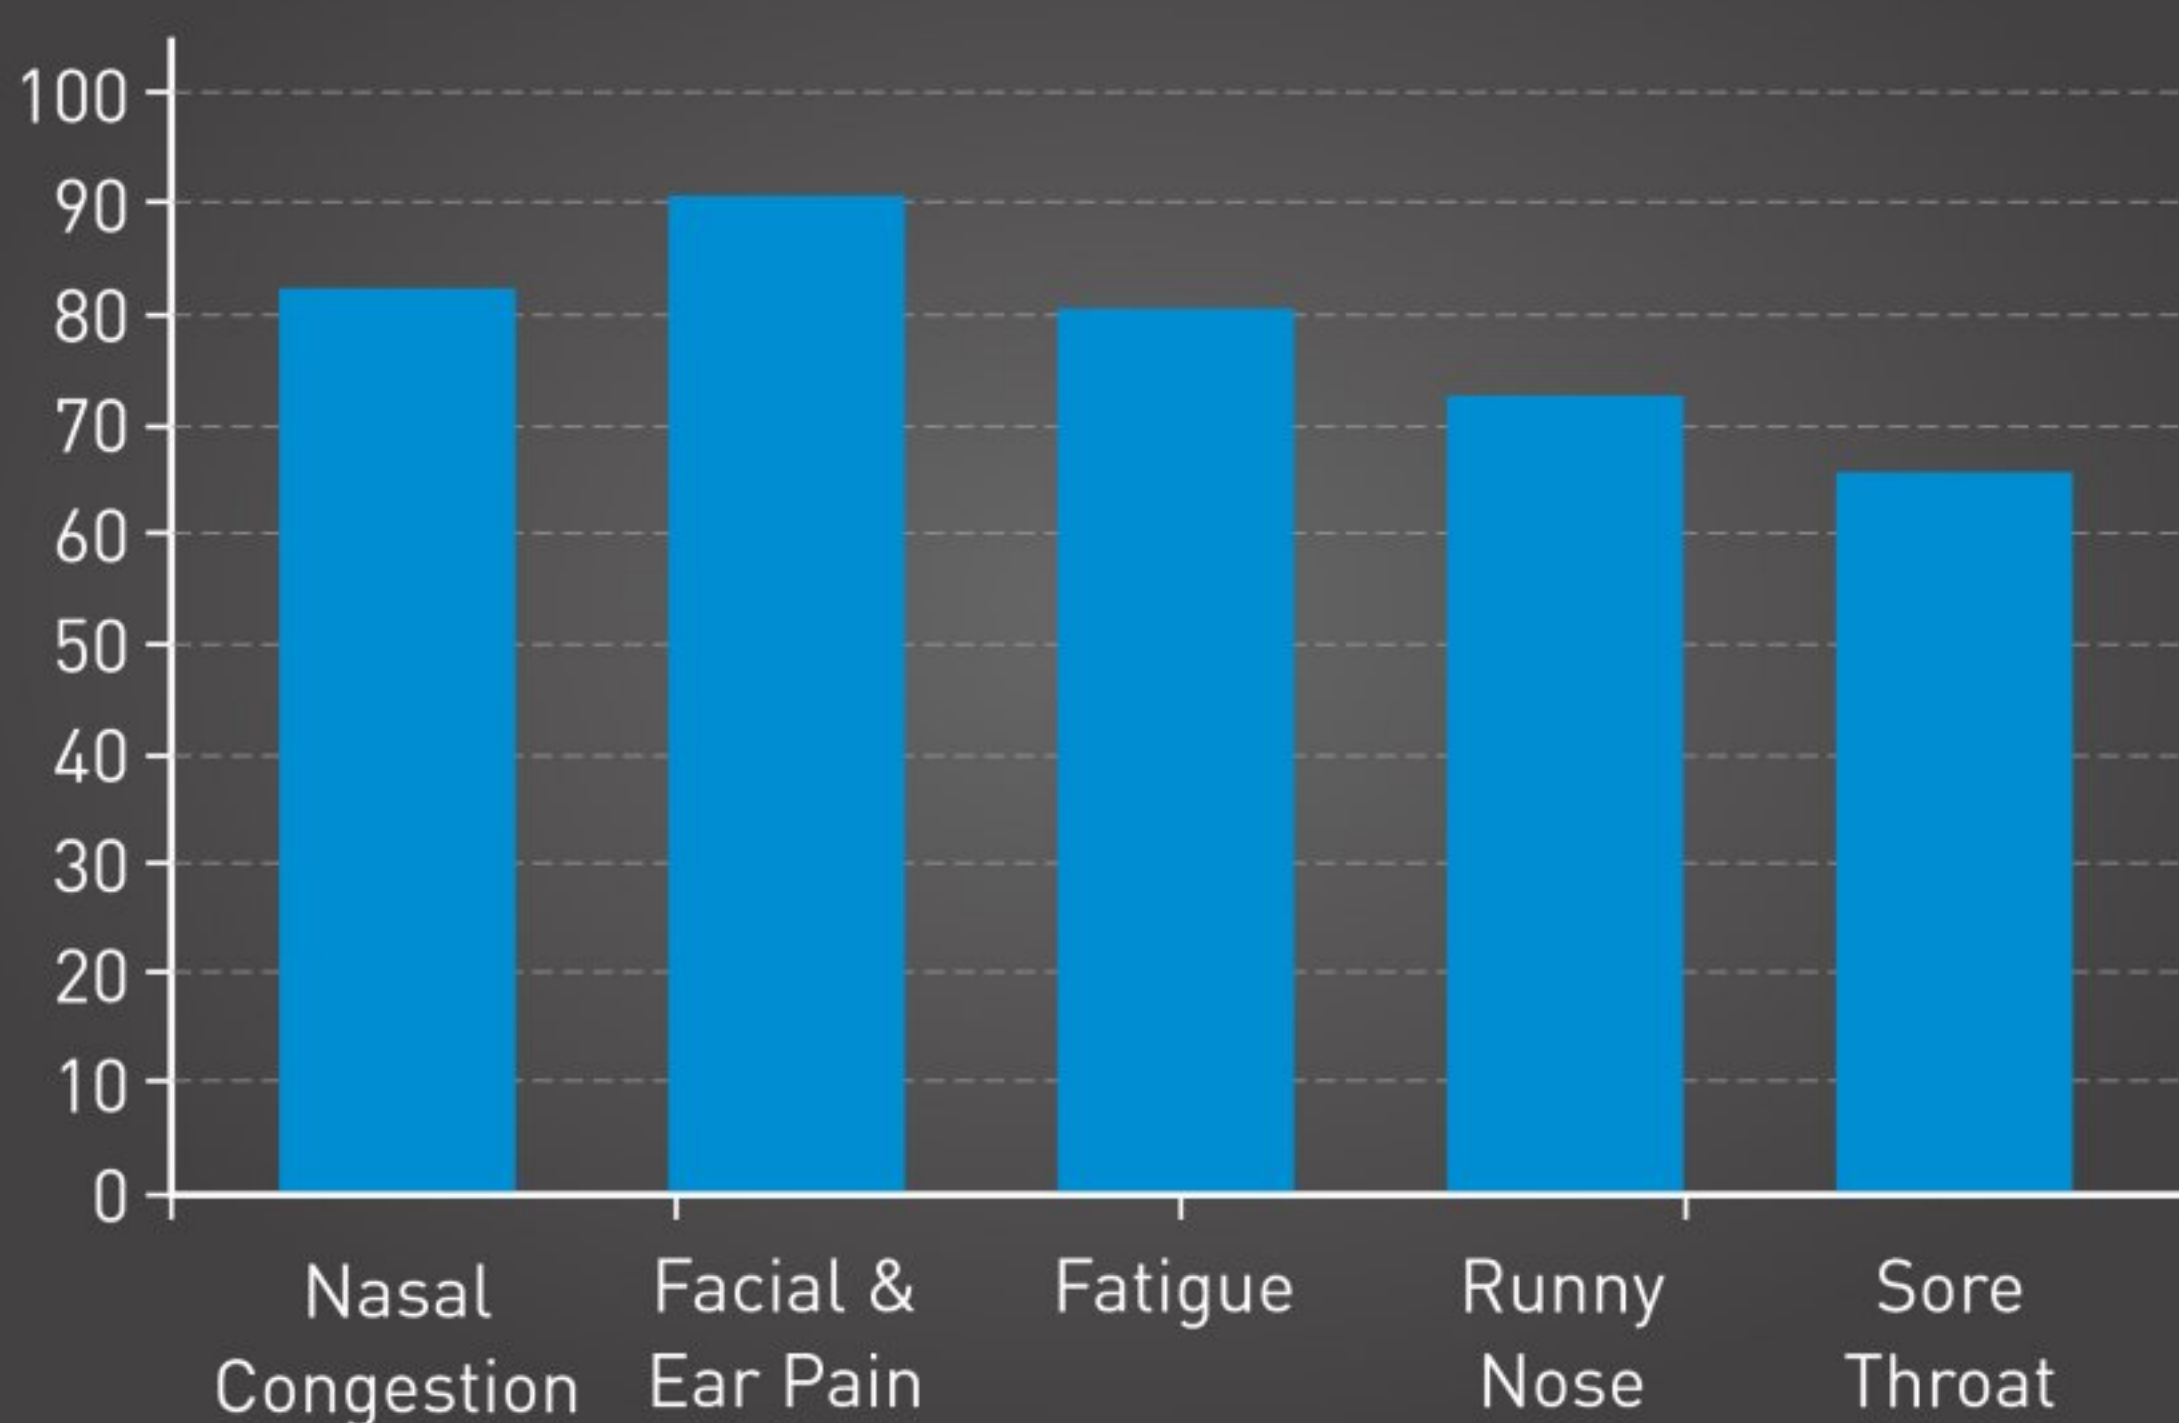

Tablets

For management & treatment of Sinusitis

Sinusitis is an inflammation of the sinuses. Sinuses are the hollow passages in the bones surrounding the nose. They produce mucus to keep nasal passages moist and drain into the nasal cavity & allergic rhinitis is an inflammatory disorder of the nasal mucosa induced by allergen exposure triggering IgE-mediated inflammation. Clinically, it is characterized by four major symptoms—rhinorrhea, sneezing, nasal itching, and nasal congestion.

Aim	To evaluate the efficacy and safety of Sinuset tablets in patients suffering from Sinusitis and/or Allergic Rhinitis.
Study conducted in	India
Study Design	A prospective, multicentre, double-blind, placebo-controlled randomized clinical trial. Subject Size: 100 patients
Time Period	14 Days.
Dosage	2 tablet thrice a day.
Result	Sinuset tablet showed a significantly higher result in symptom alleviation (measured through SNOT-20 score) as compared to placebo and showed 80% efficacy as compared to placebo (50.23%) on Day 14. There are no adverse events that occurred or worsen during treatment.
