SUITABLE FOR CHILDREN WITH GLUTEN INTOLERANCE

Gluten refers to the proteins found in cereals. It is a high molecular complex protein that is important for the body. But children can have an allergic reaction to it or a complete intolerance to it.

As a result, an inflammatory process may develop in the intestinal wall. This can lead to difficulty in absorbing nutrients and even slowing down the growth of the child.

Therefore, the content of gluten in food in such children must be strictly controlled.

SUITABLE FOR CHILDREN WITH LACTOSE INTOLERANCE

Lactose intolerance in children means that the body cannot digest this carbohydrate. It usually occurs due to a deficiency of the lactase enzyme, which breaks down milk sugar into glucose and galactose.

This leads to digestive disorders of varying severity, such as diarrhea, flatulence, colic. Also appear dermatitis and various types of rashes in children.

Vitamin-mineral complexes ALPENWELL® do not contain lactose and are therefore completely safe for children.
