Sustainability

Economic Efficiency

The overarching goal of the company is to maintain and expand its permanent presence on the respective markets - in the interests of the owner and the employees. This presence can only be secured through appropriate profitability and thus through long-term economic success.

Therefore, the following pillars are of central importance for Matrix Fine Chemicals:

- ensuring a high level of customer satisfaction and productivity
- the commitment of the employees to safeguard and increase the profitability of the company.

Every employee should be able to contribute actively and consciously to these overarching goals within their area of responsibility.

Sustainability

Social Responsibility

Employee Behavior

All employees are committed to the principle of mutual respect. Discrimination of any kind - due to national origin, skin color, gender, religion, disability, age, sexual orientation, etc. - contradicts the Matrix Fine Chemicals corporate culture.

Human Rights

Matrix Fine Chemicals undertakes to respect international human rights within its sphere of influence and to reject any type of forced or child labor – including that of business partners.

Leadership

Matrix Fine Chemicals sees a planned, permanent qualification of the employees in technical, methodical and social terms as a significant investment in the future in order to be able to successfully meet the increasing and diverse requirements of the markets and the working world.

Safety at work

Companies are run by people. Our employees have a decisive influence on the success of Matrix Fine Chemicals. That is why protecting their health, avoiding injuries and maintaining their ability to work are both human and business concerns. The qualification, sensitization and regular training are essential bases that work, and health protection is anchored in the actions of our employees.

Environmental responsibility and energy efficiency

Environmental protection and energy efficiency are key obligations for Matrix Fine Chemicals in achieving company goals and are essential aspects of every employee's activities. Protecting the environment and responsibly using natural resources, particularly energy, secures the company's future and the quality of life for future generations. Economy and ecology hold special significance at Matrix Fine Chemicals, as efficient use of resources directly impacts economic success.

Matrix Fine Chemicals regularly and systematically determines and evaluates the environmental impact it causes and tries to ensure that it is limited to an ecologically acceptable level. Compliance with the legal requirements for environmental protection is considered a minimum standard. When evaluating and selecting suppliers and service partners, Matrix Fine Chemicals works to ensure that they act according to equivalent standards in their processes and work processes.

The company supports open, fair, and objective dialogue among its employees. Long-term, trusting cooperation is built through intensive discussions with customers and comprehensive support. Matrix Fine Chemicals views communication with authorities, contractors, and other stakeholders as a positive enrichment and maintains these relationships. To offer high-quality products and services, suppliers are actively involved in the Matrix Fine Chemicals management system during procurement.

What our customers say

Testimonials

We have been ordering compounds at Matrix Fine Chemicals several times at a 1-10 kg scale.

Service was always very good, we know that they are very flexible and arranged everything to our satisfaction.

We were able to discuss and define the purity of the desired products. Even the sort and amount of additives/stabilizers could be adapted to our needs. Matrix Fine Chemicals was always fast. I want to thank you for the excellent service.
