An Italian Story.

A story of vision, courage and future.

In 1965, in Rome, Giacomo La Rosa sparked an idea: a single production line, a grand vision, and unwavering determination. From that first step emerged a journey marked by growth, transformation, and bold decisions. Every step of this evolution has been guided by the same founding values: passion, commitment, and confidence in the future.

Today, Grafibox is a private holding company a choice that ensures strategic independence, rapid decision-making, and maximum confidentiality, all essential for responding with agility to the challenges of a constantly evolving market. Working alongside leading pharmaceutical companies in Europe and internationally, Grafibox Sud carries forward that legacy of quality, reliability, and vision every day, reinforced by a solid, long-term-oriented structure.

Because every great enterprise begins with a dream. And it continues thanks to the people who make it a reality.
