

PHARMACIRCLE™

THE DIFFERENCE IS IN THE DETAILS

FORMULATION & PIPELINE DETAILS

PharmaCircle tracks product and pipeline information for drugs and biologics from early development through to market maturity, and connects it with formulation and component details.

Multi-parameter searches can be performed across hundreds of variables including by phase, indication, molecule/API type, mechanism of action, route, target type, BCS Classification, dosage form and administration.

PharmaCircle provides the type of details that can't be found elsewhere:

- dosage form, shape, color, coating and excipient amounts
- dosing quantities and frequency, injections sites and volumes
- packaging, kit components, storage conditions and shelf life

PharmaCircle also provides due diligence level data on over 8,500 drug delivery technologies and delivery devices in more than 300 drug delivery categories and connects them to pipeline and marketed products using the technology.

STRATEGIC DATA & INSIGHT ON DRUG DEVELOPMENT & INNOVATION

Since 2003, PharmaCircle™ has been providing commercial and emerging stage life sciences companies and suppliers with the integrated data, powerful analysis tools and industry knowledge needed to solve complex, realworld challenges in product development and innovation.

PharmaCircle's cutting edge search, filtering and visualization tools deliver a comprehensive view of hundreds of company, product and technology attributes. Interactive tables and charts provide the details needed to support development efforts and uncover new opportunities.

KEY PHARMACIRCLE BENEFITS:

- Seamless integration of development, clinical, safety, regulatory, manufacturing and commercial content
- Unique data modules that serve the whole team, from research to clinical trials, to drug delivery, to business development
- Product and technology details far beyond the typical pipeline database
- Dynamic data filtering and visualization tools that provide instant analytics
- Unparalleled one-to-one customer support provided by pharma industry veterans

PharmaCircle's Business Intelligence & Prospecting Tools enable you to identify and assess potential clients, partners and opportunities in a specific geographic region, industry sector, therapeutic area, phase of development and much more.

CUSTOMER SUPPORT

Have a question or need some help to get the information you need? PharmaCircle provides online and phone support to help you find the information you need as quickly and easily as possible. We also provide training sessions and online tutorial videos to ensure your team is able to effectively use all of the features of PharmaCircle.

REGULAR UPDATES

With a dedicated team of analysts PharmaCircle information modules are updated as new information is made available. This ranges from hourly to quarterly depending on the release and availability of new information.

CUSTOM PACKAGES

Not all companies have the same needs. PharmaCircle can customize an information package to meet your particular needs.

USE & USER INTERFACE

PharmaCircle is available online 24/7 using a browser interface (Windows Edge, Firefox, Safari and Chrome are all supported). Searches can be conducted with any one of three different search engines to better pinpoint facts and figures. Information is presented in charts and tables that can be downloaded as Word, Excel or PDF documents.

One shared pharmaceutical information database to serve research, development, regulatory, supply chain, and business development ensures better coordination and communication.
