Soft gummies and jellies are a very popular galenic form in the pharmaceutical and food industry. They are organoleptically stimulating and suitable for adding active ingredients. These delicious strawberry flavoured multivitamin soft gummies contain essential DHA & EPA extracted from algae instead of using omega 3 fatty acids processed from fish oil. This is one example of our efforts in finding plant-based, more modern alternatives of active ingredients. DHA from algae for example can be grown under controlled conditions and without the use of chemicals. Fewer resources are needed to produce DHA from algae and therefore the environment is protected.

Sugar-free vegan soft gummy with 20 mg DHA, 10 mg EPA, vitamins & iodine – Good for your brain, heart & vision

Effective – delicious – innovative

The Brain Force vegan soft gummy contains a carefully selected mix of vitamins and the mineral iodine in combination with plant-based omega 3 fatty acids. A strong mix supporting a healthy life.

Omega-3 fatty acids have a very special significance: they promote brain and heart health, they are important for our eyes, and they are said to reduce the risk of developing certain types of cancer. Even for the unborn child in the womb, omega-3 fatty acids are indispensable for brain development.

Adding a natural strawberry flavouring makes this soft gummy absolutely delicious.
